

To End All Wars: A Story of Loyalty and Rebellion, 1914-1918, by Adam Hochschild

About the author:

Born October 5, 1942 in New York, NY

Served in the U.S. Army Reserve 1964-1970

Co-founded Mother Jones magazine in 1974, editor and writer 1976-81

NPR commentator in Washington, D.C. 1982-83

Public Interest Radio commentator in New York, NY 1987-88

UC Berkeley Graduate School of Journalism lecturer 1992- present

An only child, Adam Hochschild grew up with all the servants, fine homes, travel, and quality education wealth could provide, and also with all the expectations his anxious parents could place on him.... Hochschild's break from his father's authority and his parents' world began after a visit to the mines owned by the company his father headed in central Africa. Concern over racial injustice there and in the United States led Hochschild as a young man to join the civil rights movement. – From Contemporary Authors Online

Other books by the author:

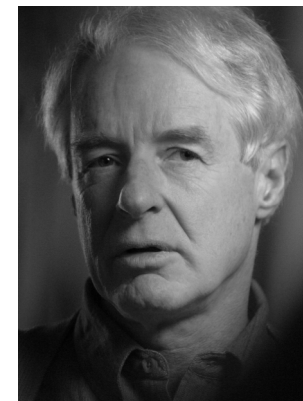

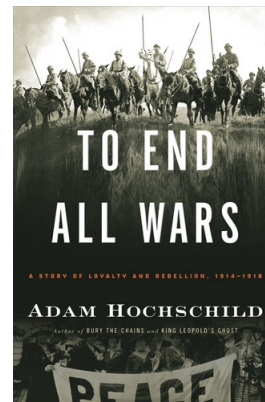

Bury the Chains: prophets and rebels in the fight to free an empire's slaves

Half the Way Home: a memoir of father and son

King Leopold's Ghost: a story of greed, terror, and heroism in Central Africa

Unquiet Ghost: Russians remember Stalin

Read-Alikes for To End All Wars

The Beauty and the Sorrow: an intimate history of the First World War / 940.3092 Englund, Peter
A mosaic of perspectives that moves between the home front and the front lines, Englund reconstructs the feelings, experiences, and shifting spirits of twenty people of varying age and nationality.

Conscience: two soldiers, two pacifists, one family: a test of will and faith in World War I / 940.3162 Thomas

E. Sylvia Pankhurst: portrait of a radical / BIO Pankhurst by Patricia W. Romero

King, Kaiser, Tsar: three royal cousins who led the world to war / 940.3 Clay, Catrine
The extraordinary family story of George V, Wilhelm II, and Nicholas II: they were tied to one another by history, and history would ultimately tear them apart.

Paris 1919: six months that changed the world / 940.3141 Macmillan, Margaret. This book considers the personalities, ideals, and prejudices of the men who shaped the peace settlement, carved up bankrupt empires, and created new countries at the end of the war.

The Proud Tower: a portrait of the world before the war, 1890-1914 / 940.28 Tuchman, Barbara W. AND The Guns of August / 940.4 Tuchman. In these two books Tuchman brings to vivid life the people, places, and events that shaped the years leading up to the Great War: one looking at society, the other the state.

Testament of Youth / BIO Brittain, Vera. Abandoning her studies at Oxford in 1915 to enlist as a nurse in the armed services, Brittain served in London, Malta, and on the Western Front. This is both a record of what she lived through and an elegy for a vanished generation.
